Draft Electoral District Plans – 5 districts

One-person, one-vote

With six districts:

$28,100 \div 6 = 4,683$ (ideal)

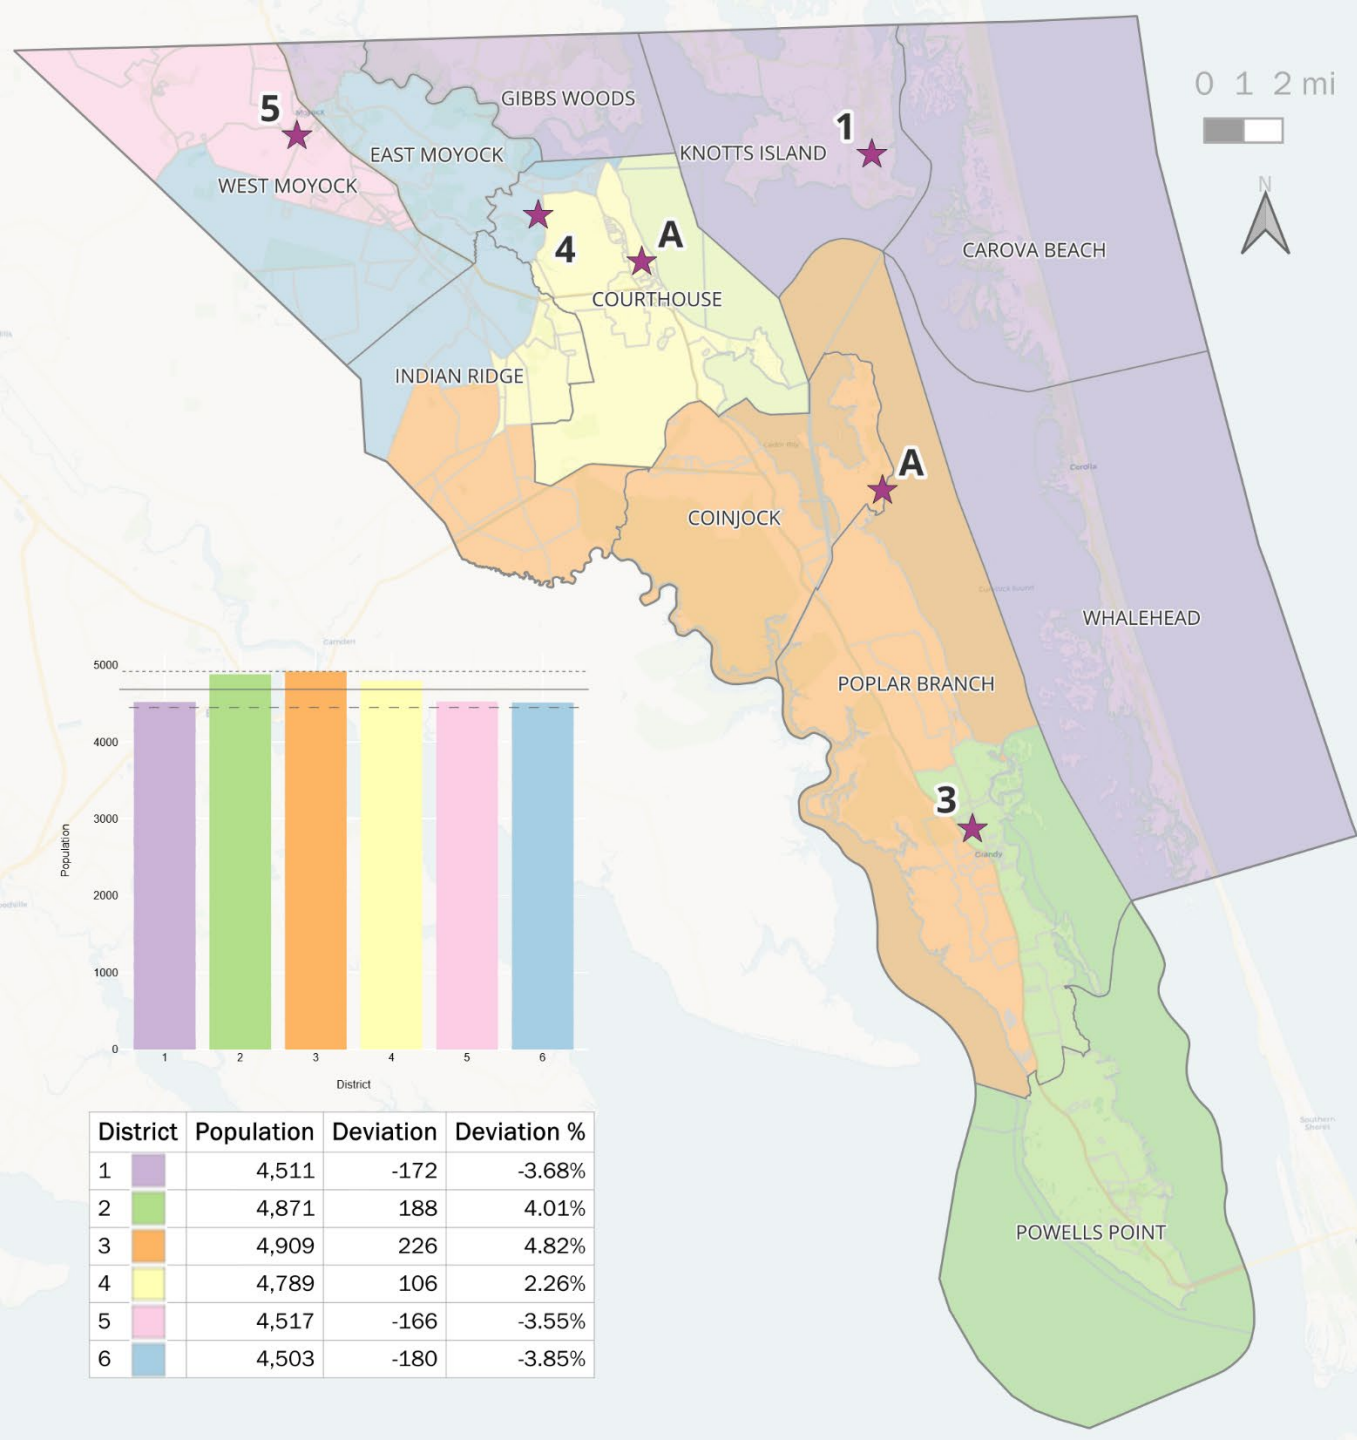

5% of 4,683 = 234

+5% = 4,917 (upper bound)

-5% = 4,449 (lower bound)

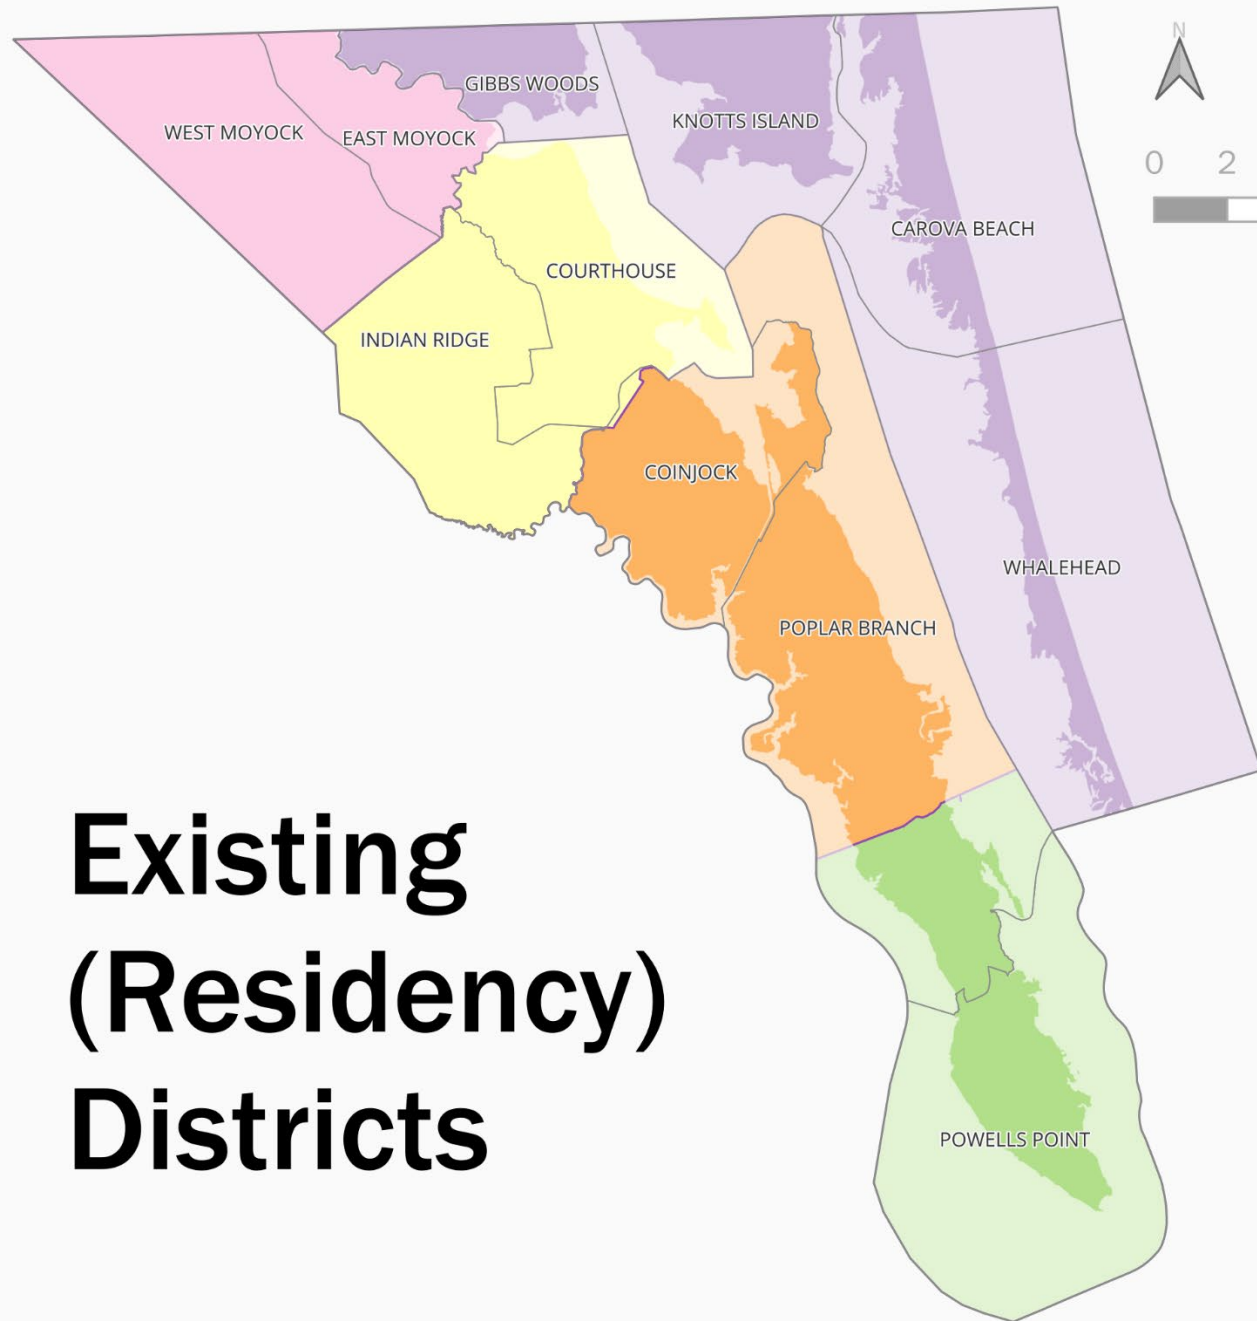

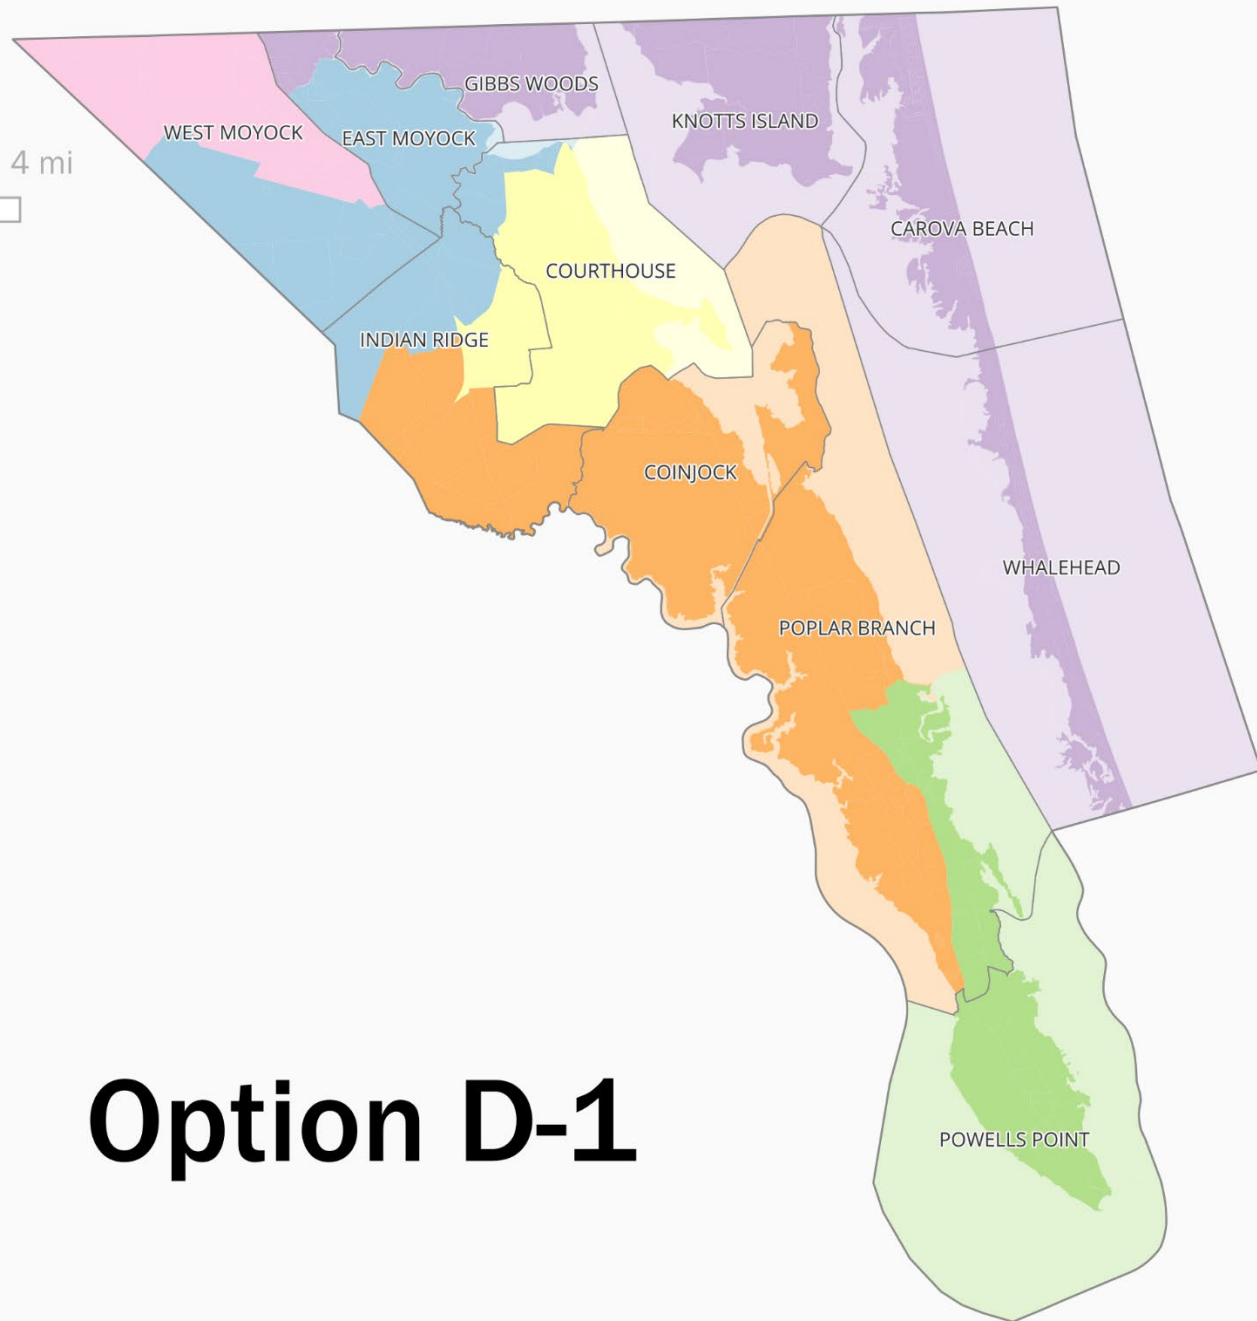

Option D-1

- Six precincts with no change or very little change
- New district (6) covers much of the area of most new development and population growth
- District 3 incumbent placed in proposed District 2
- District 4 incumbent placed in proposed District 6
- No incumbents (planning to run for re-election) paired

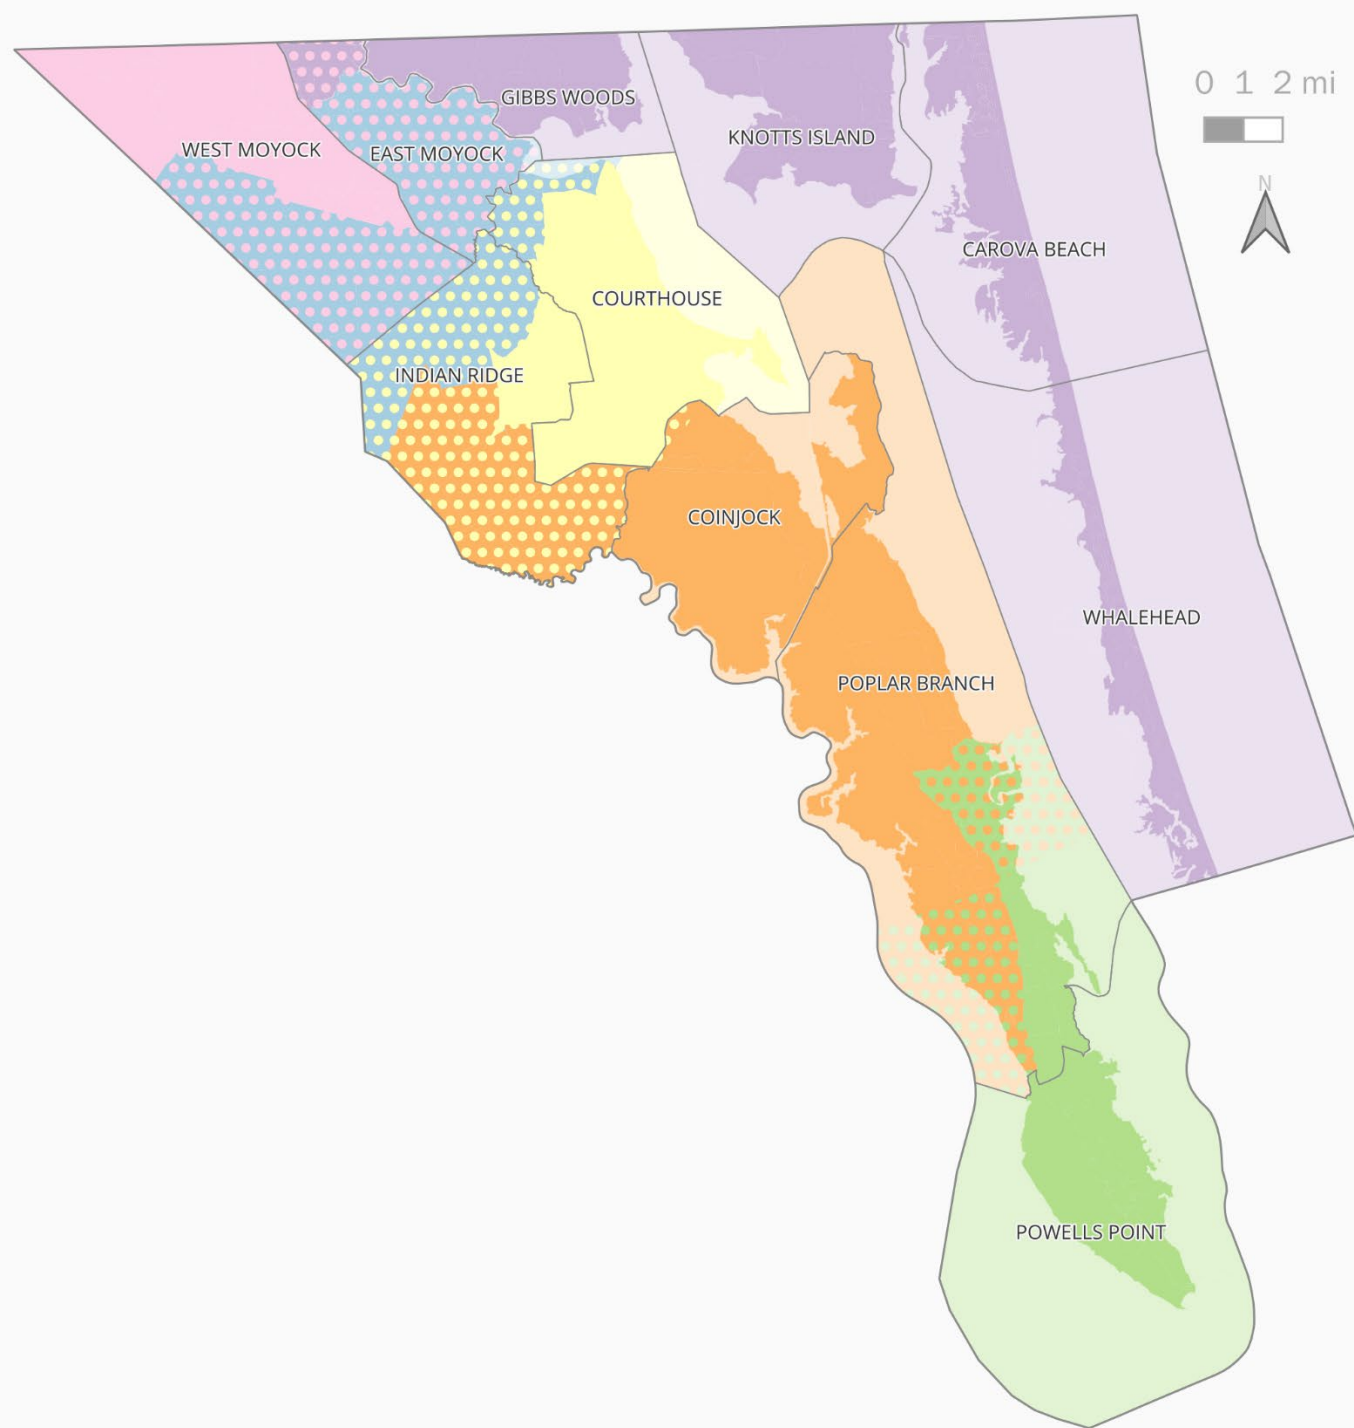

Existing (Residency) Districts

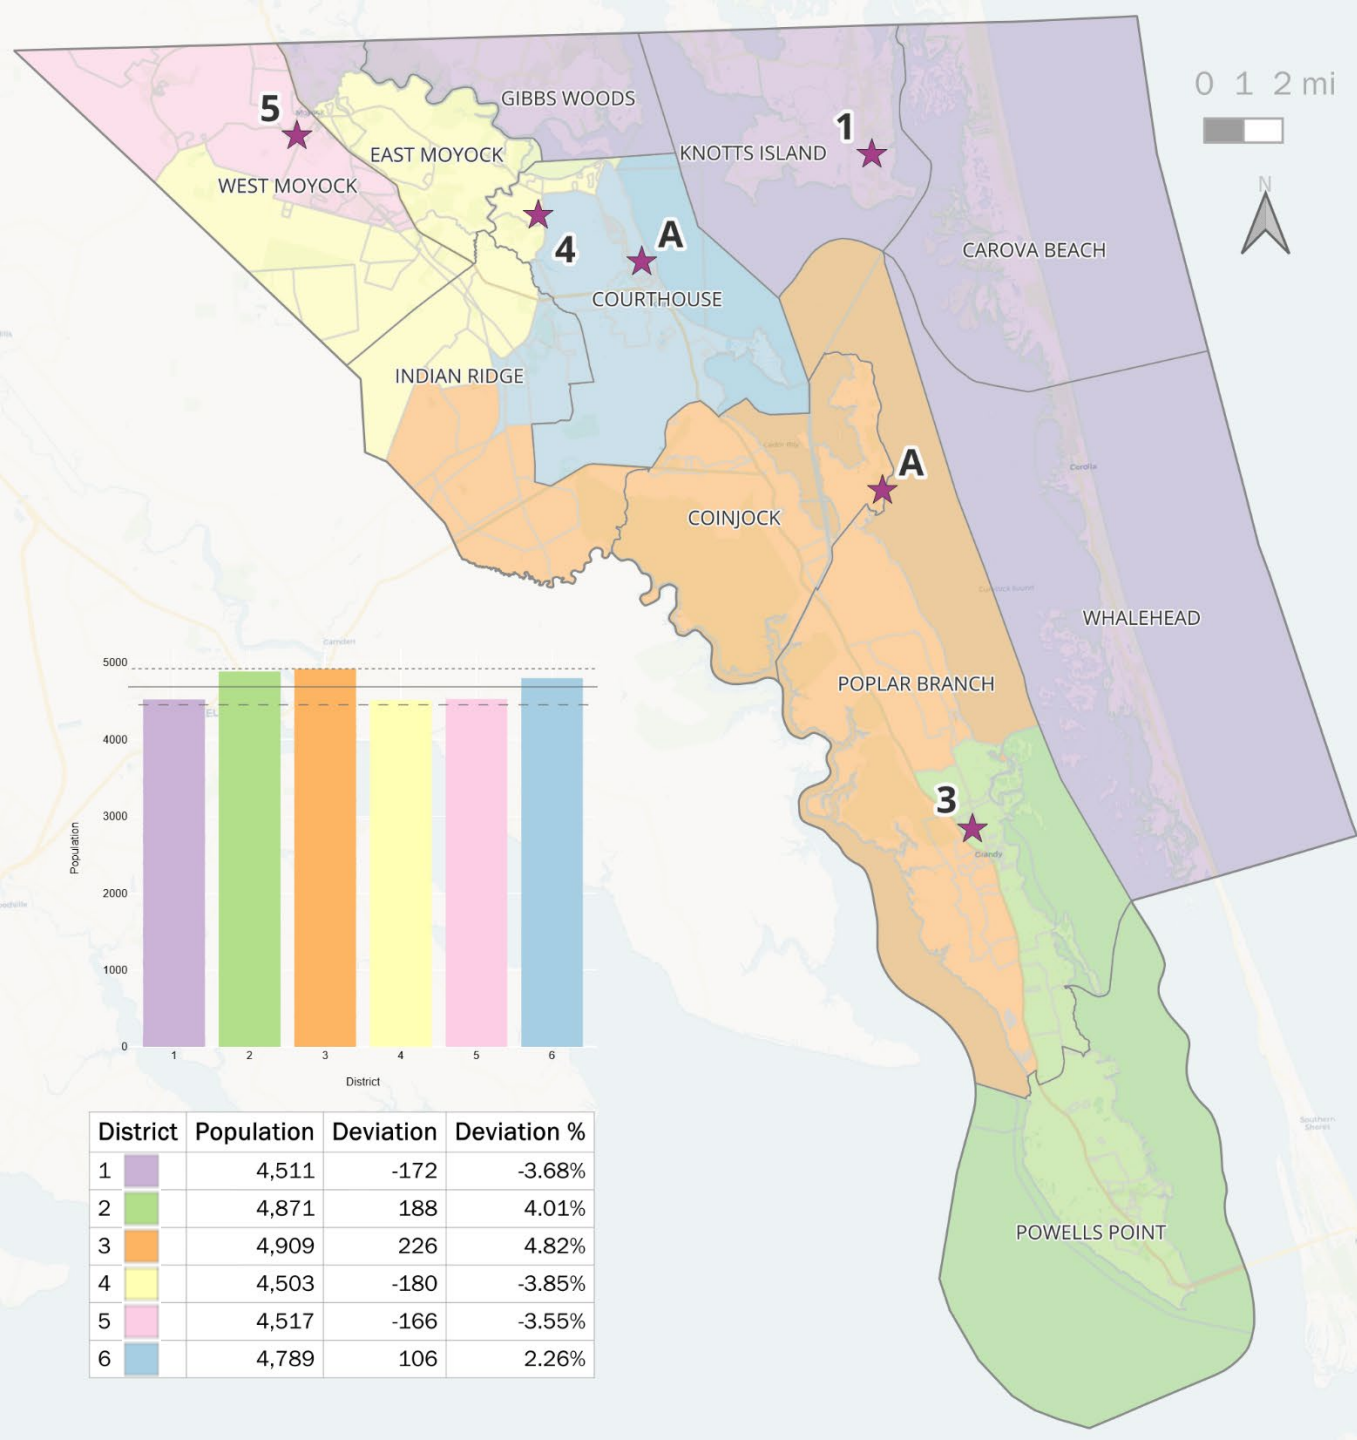

Option D-1

Option D-1 Changes

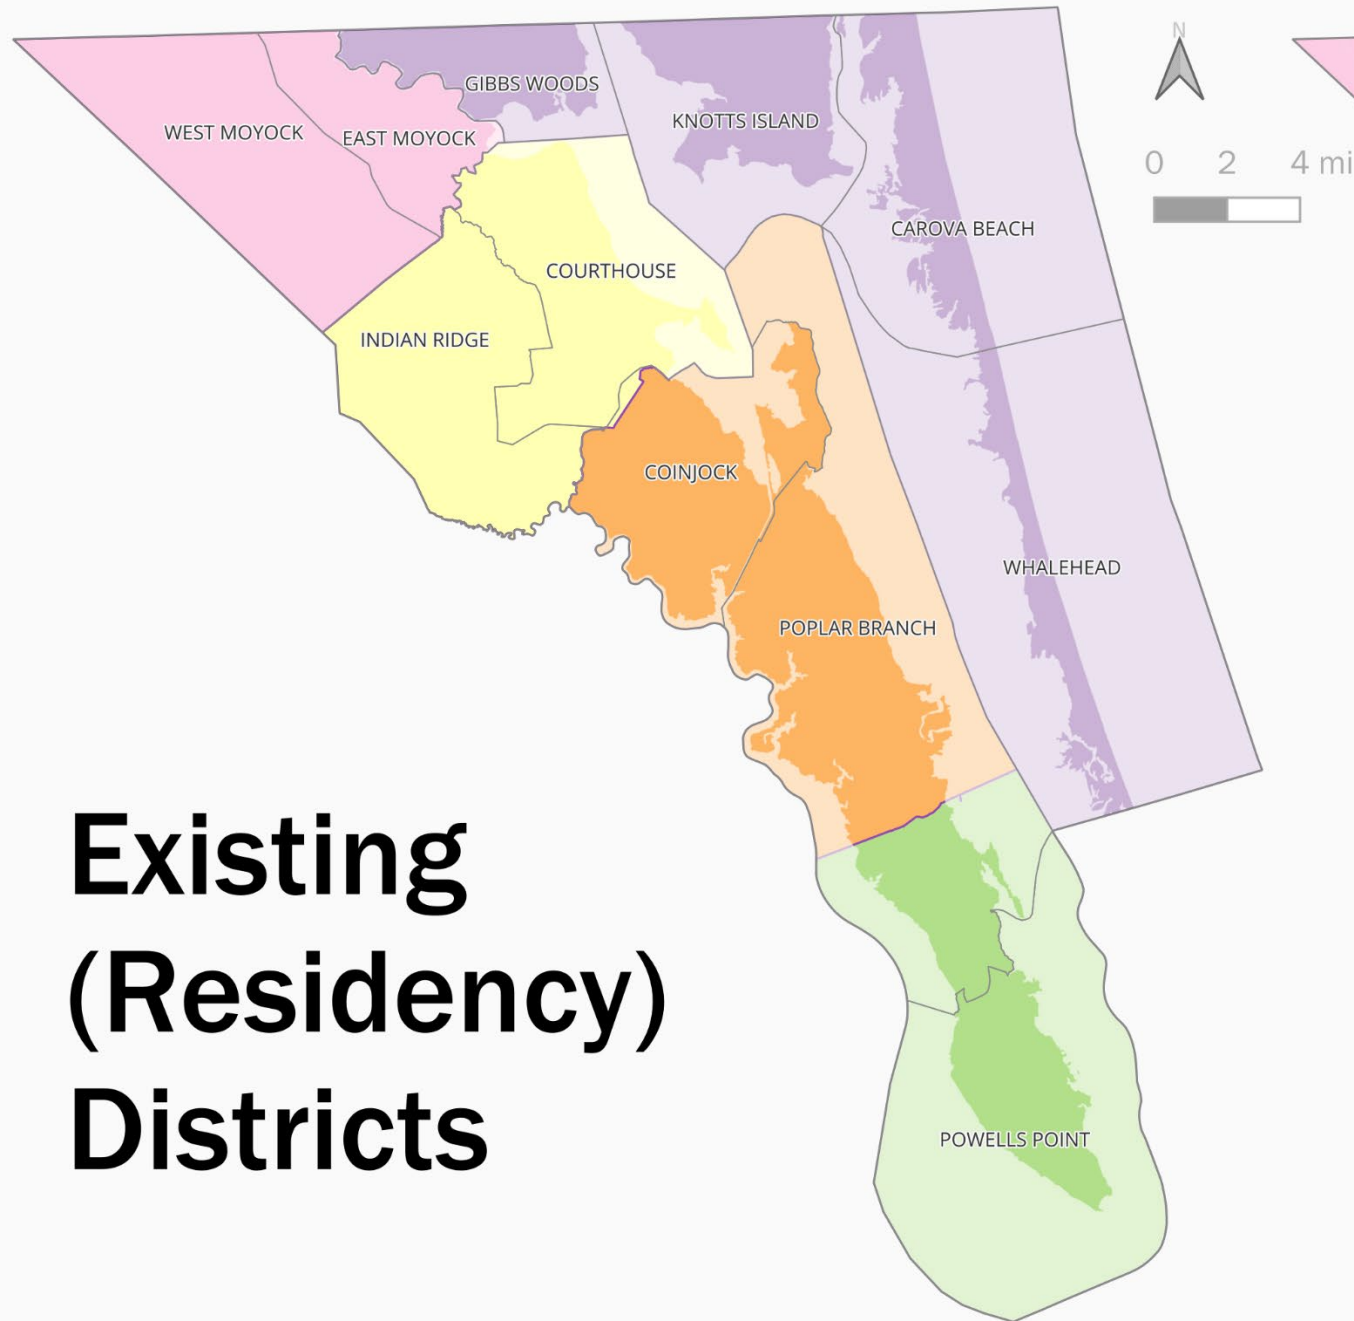

- Solid background colors represent the proposed district
- Dots represent the existing district
- If no dots are visible, no changes are proposed

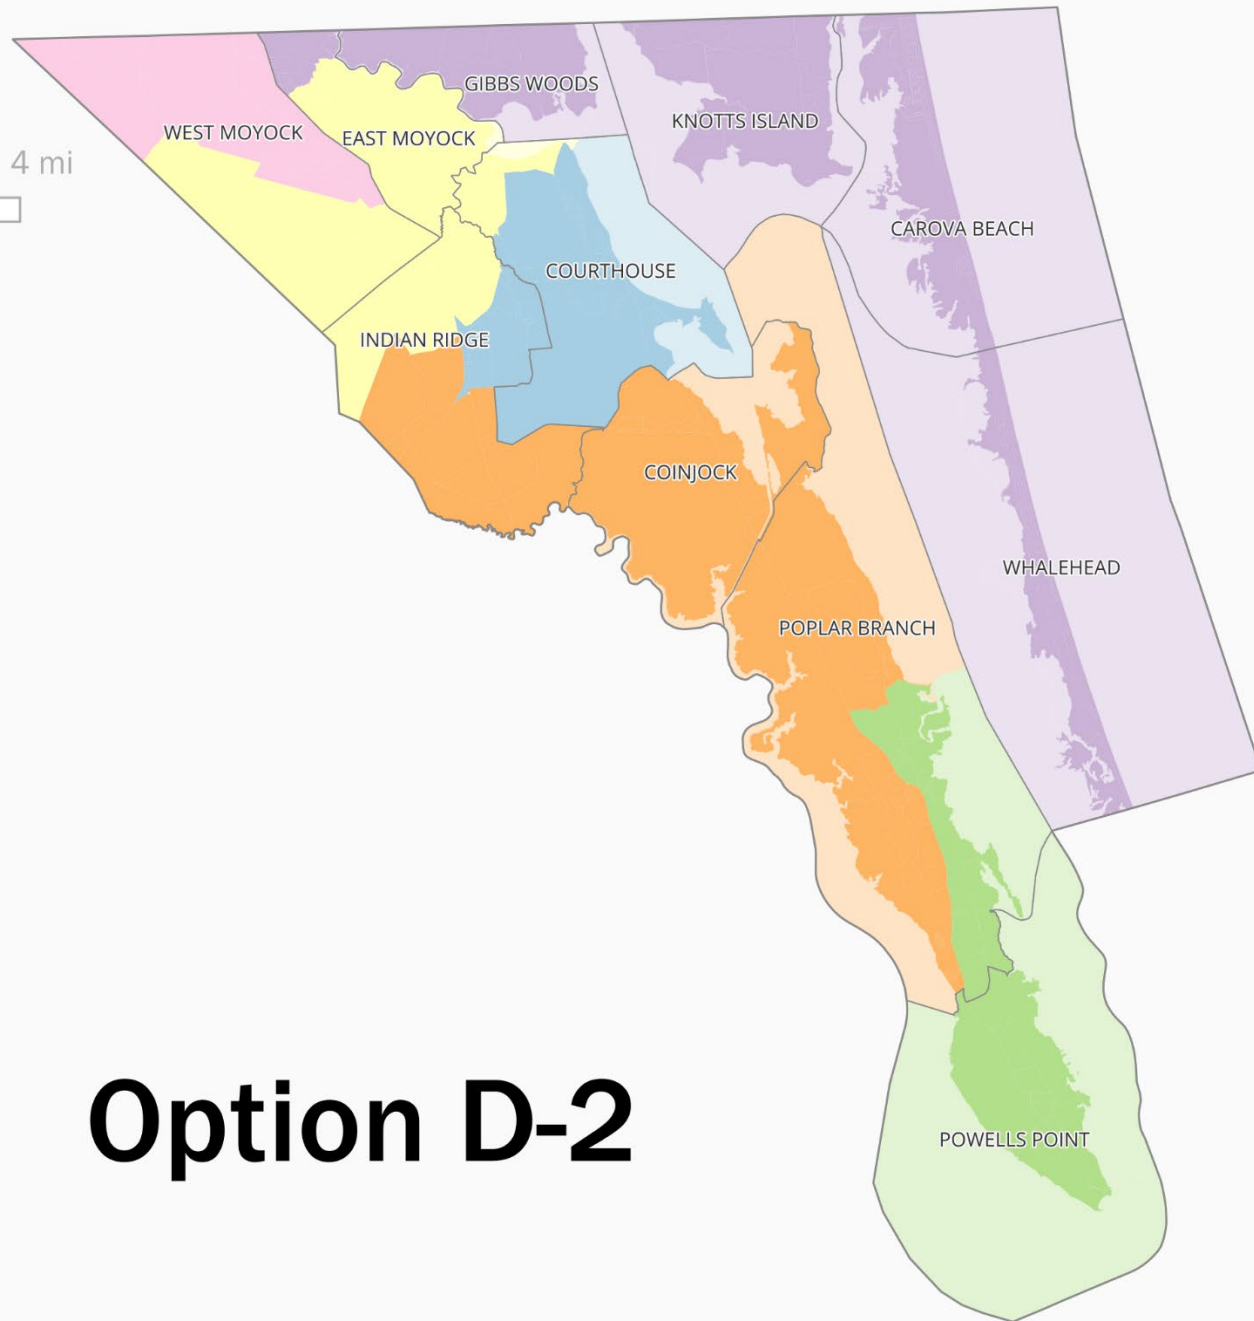

Option D-2

- Same as Option D-1, except District 4 and District 6 are swapped.
- District 4 incumbent stays in District 4
- New district mostly in Courthouse precinct
- Six precincts with no change or very little change
- District 3 incumbent placed in proposed District 2
- No incumbents (planning to run for re-election) paired

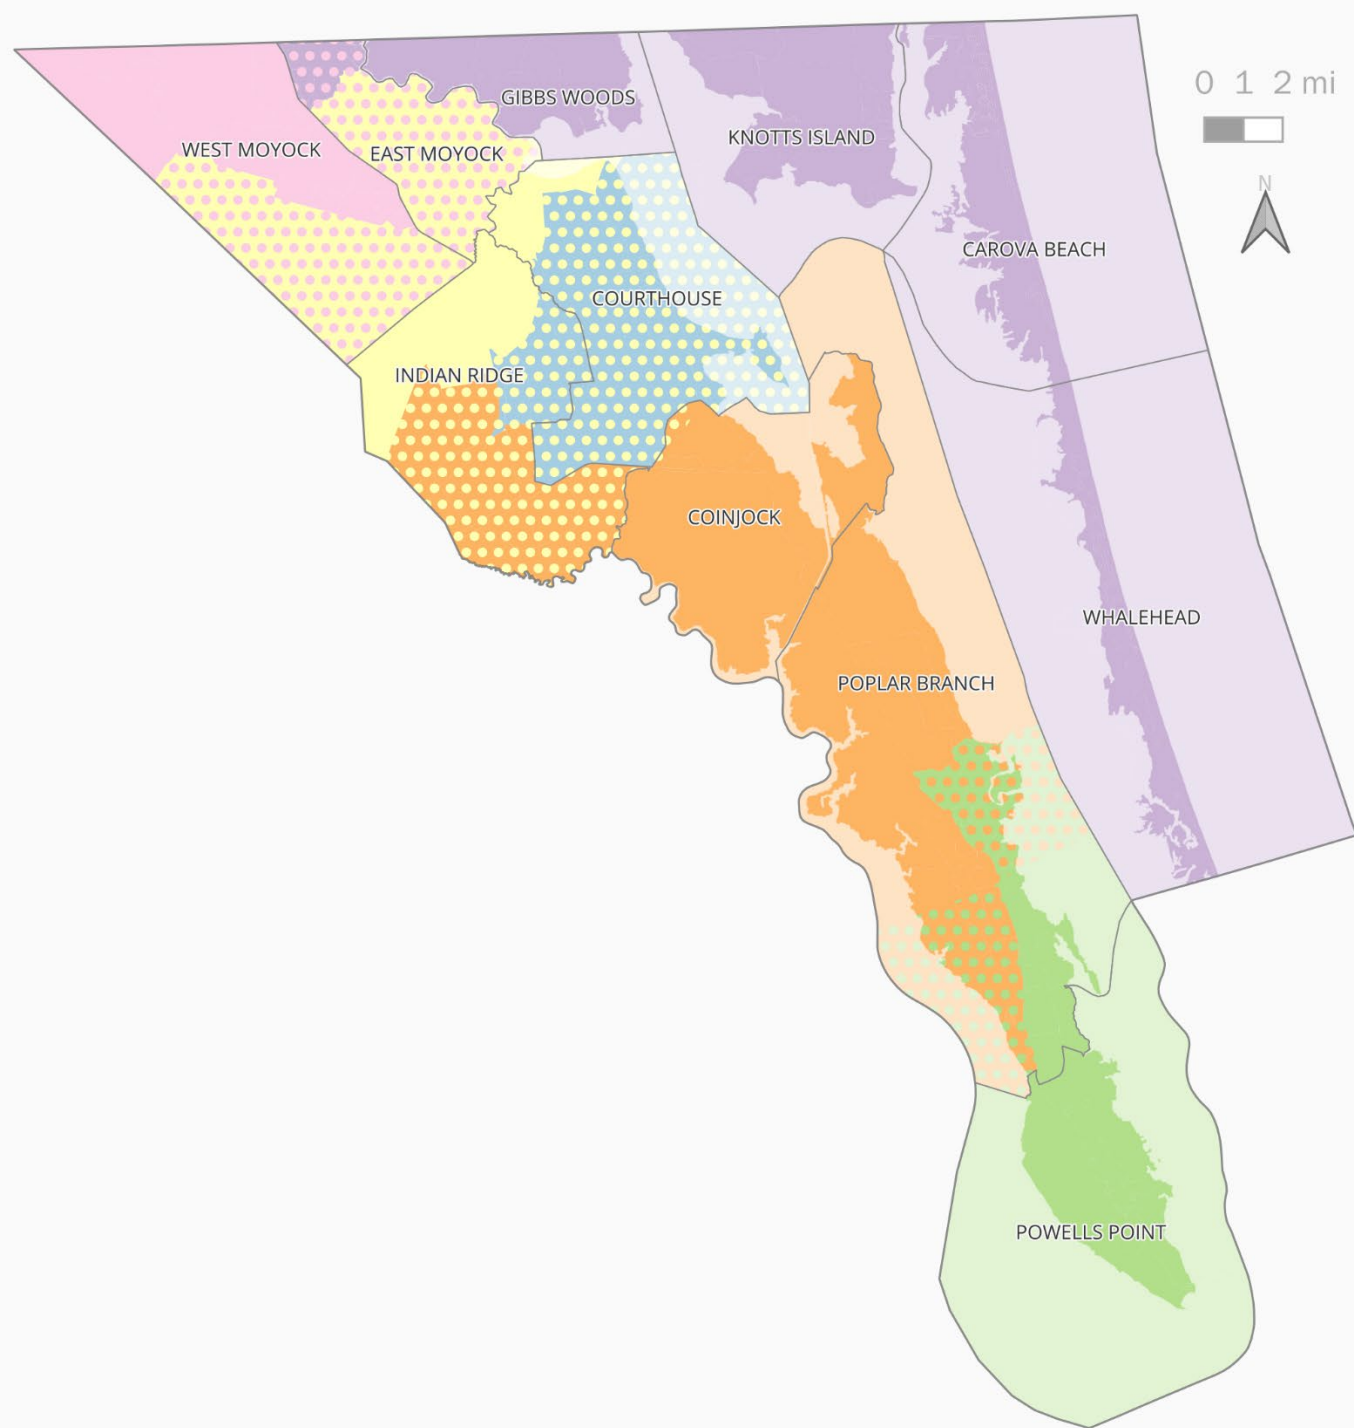

Existing (Residency) Districts

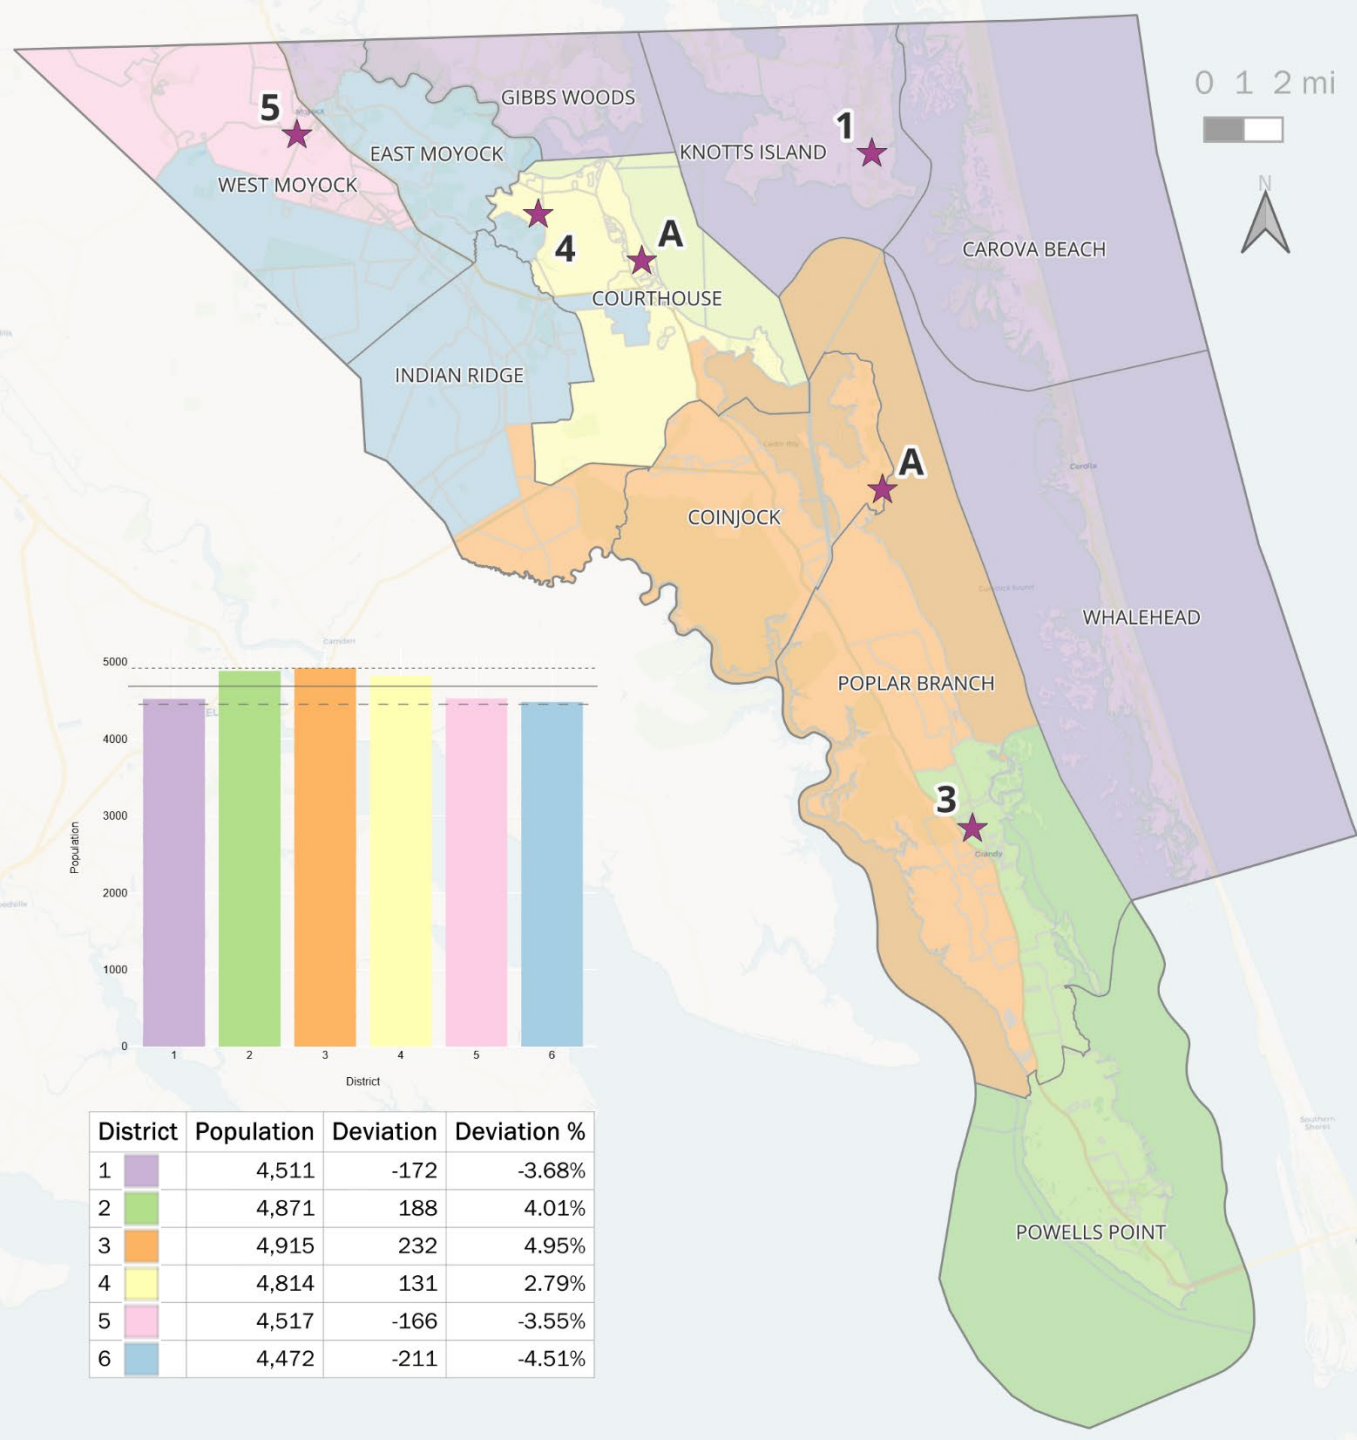

Option D-2

Option D-2 Changes

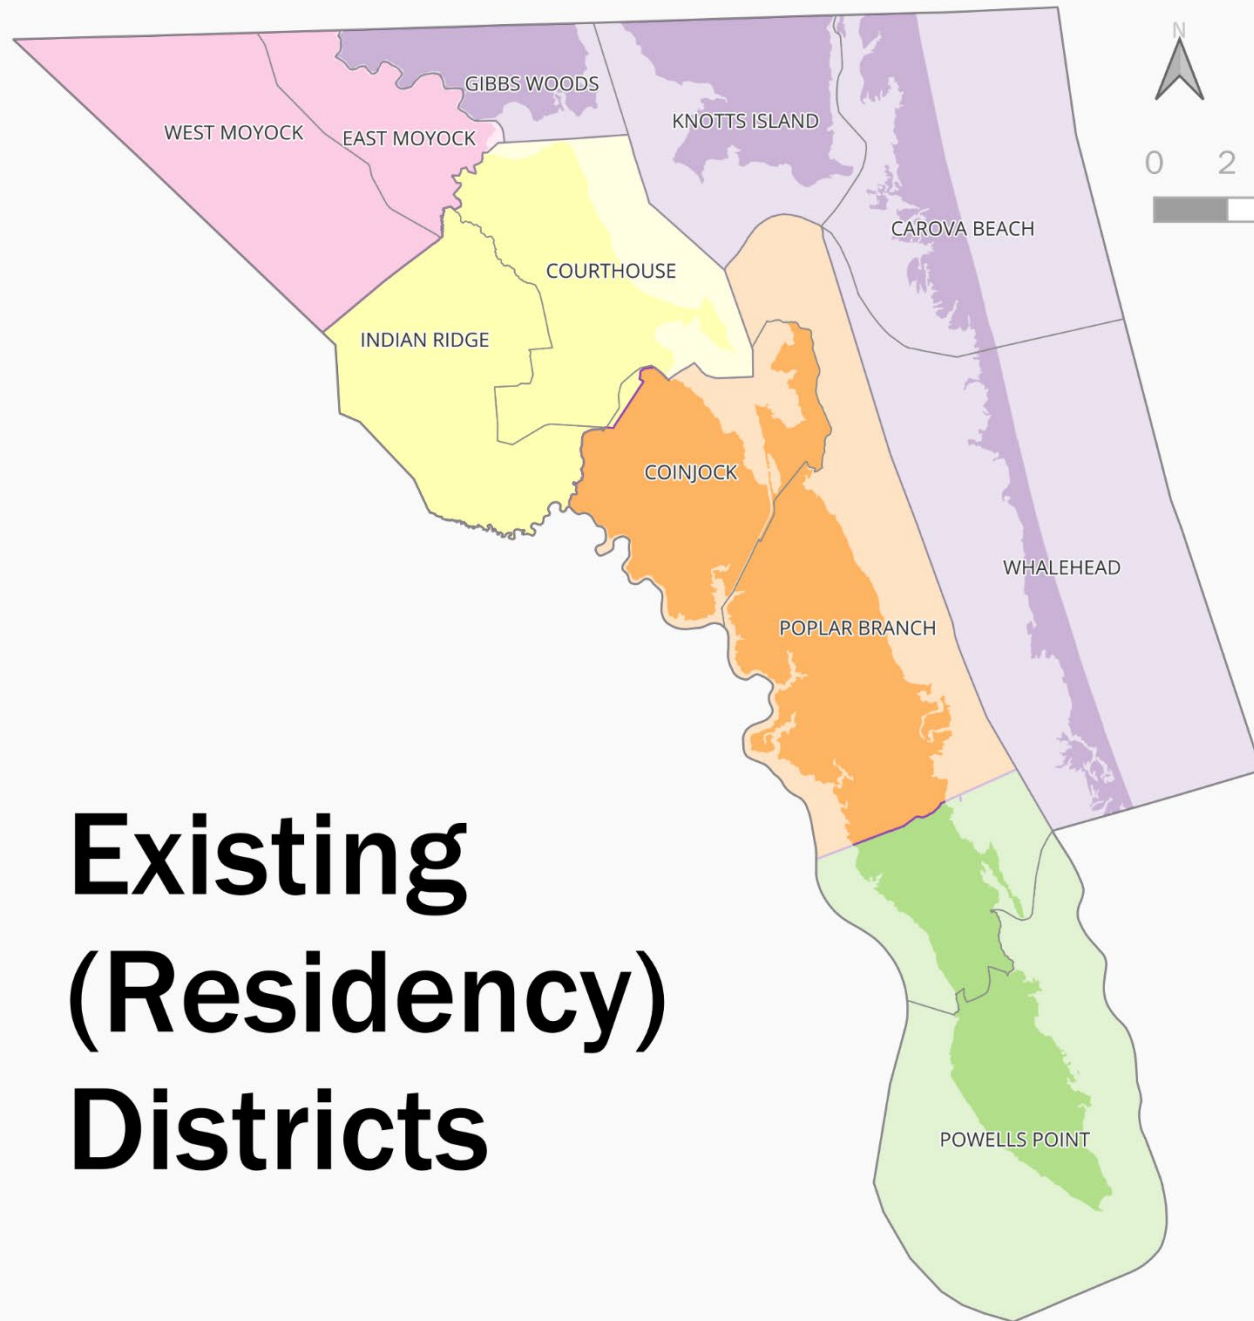

- Solid background colors represent the proposed district
- Dots represent the existing district
- If no dots are visible, no changes are proposed

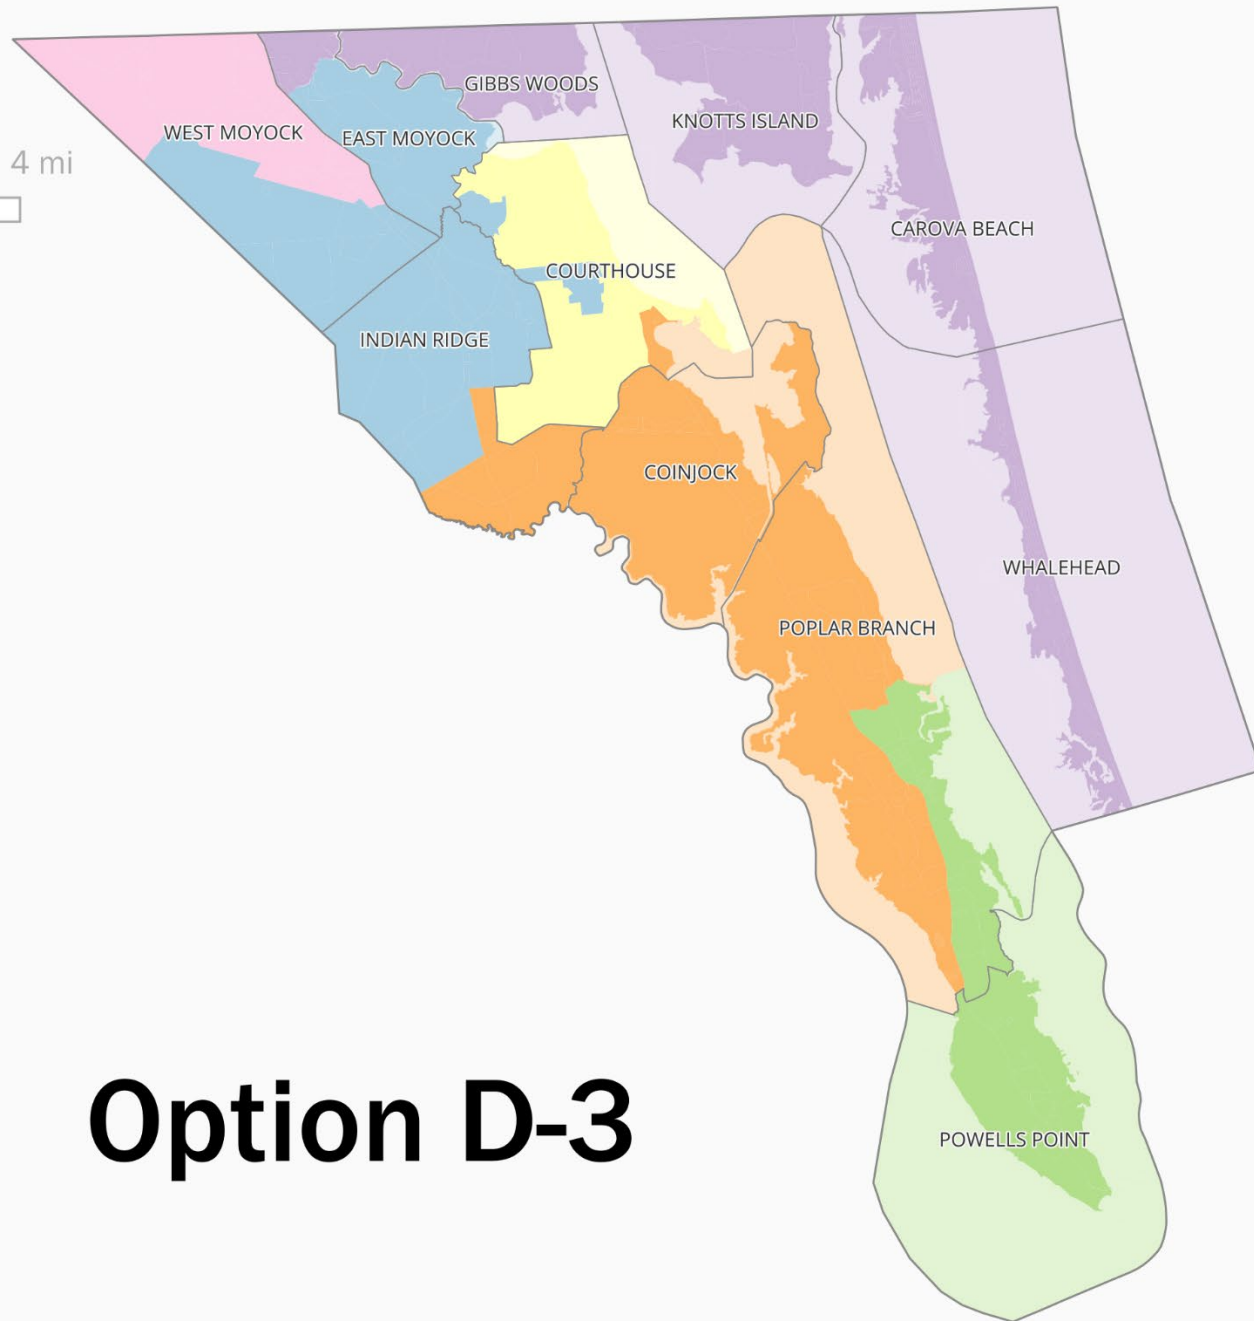

Option D-3

- Similar to Option D-1, but changes to Courthouse and Indian Ridge precincts. All of District 4 is within Courthouse precinct
- New district overlaps with growth
- District 4 incumbent stays in District 4 (as does one current at-large member), no incumbent in District 6
- Six precincts with no change or very little change
- District 3 incumbent placed in proposed District 2
- Less compact district shapes

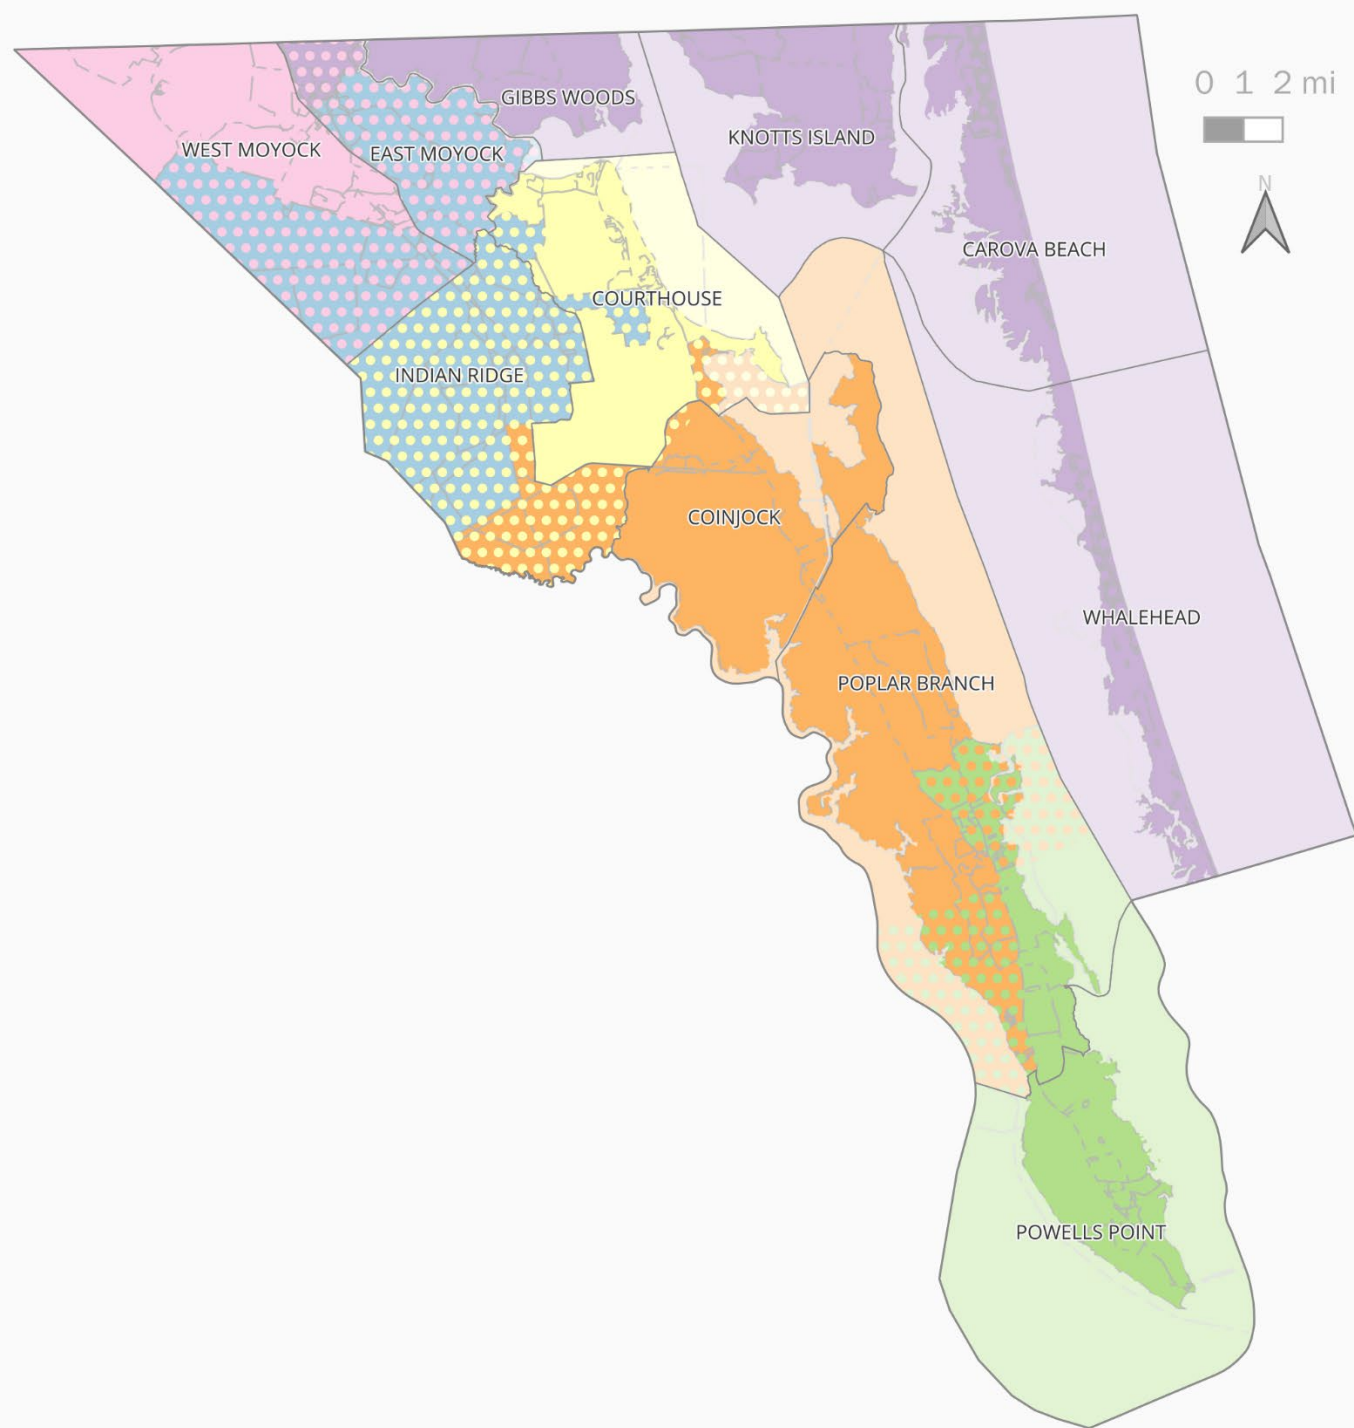

Existing (Residency) Districts

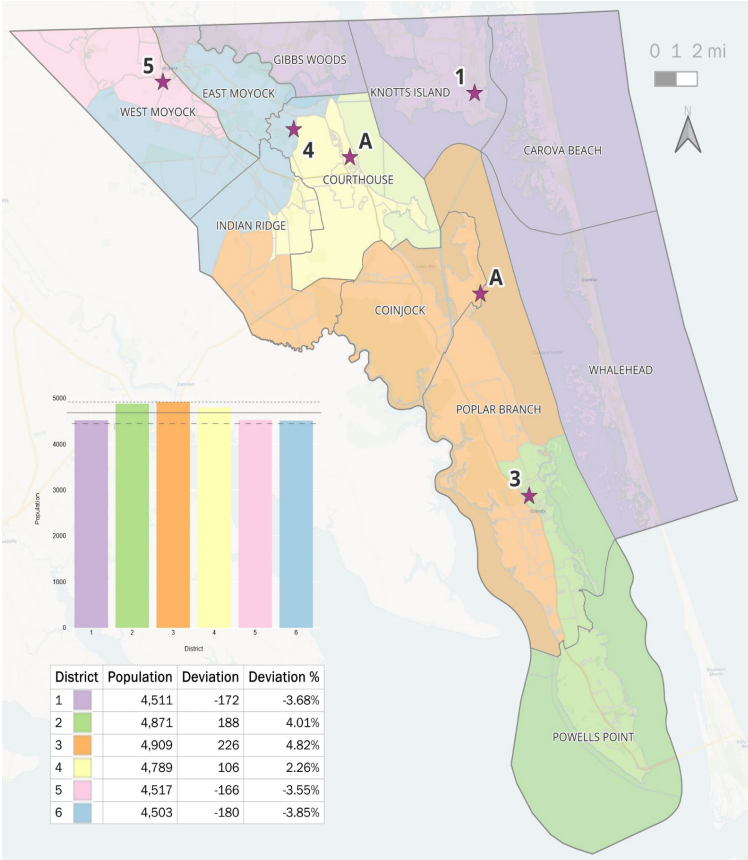

Option D-3

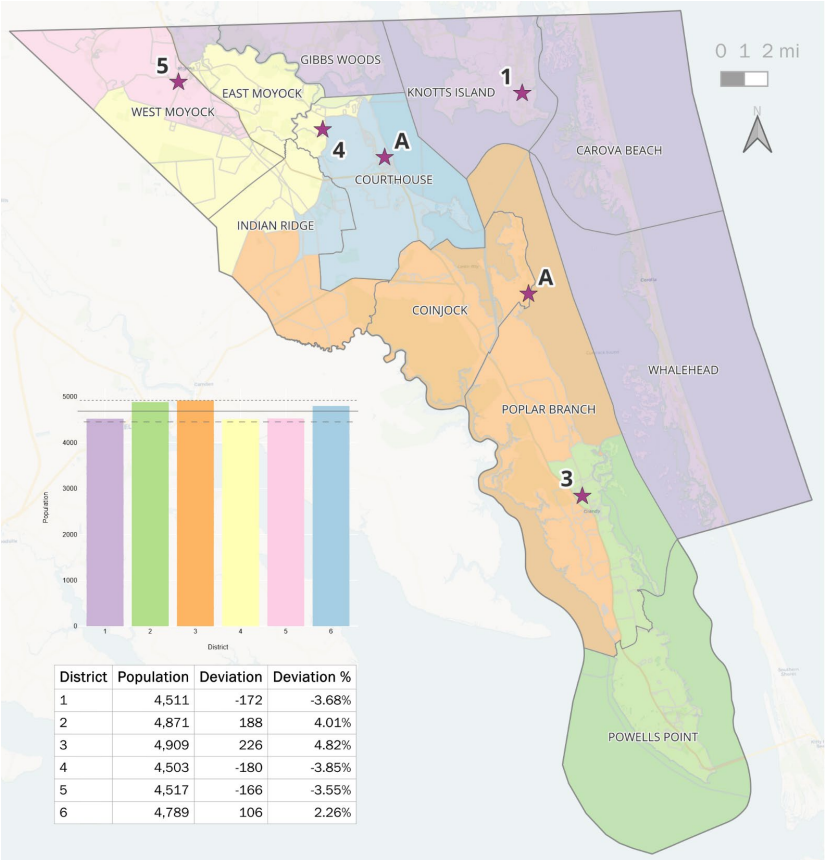

Option D-3 Changes

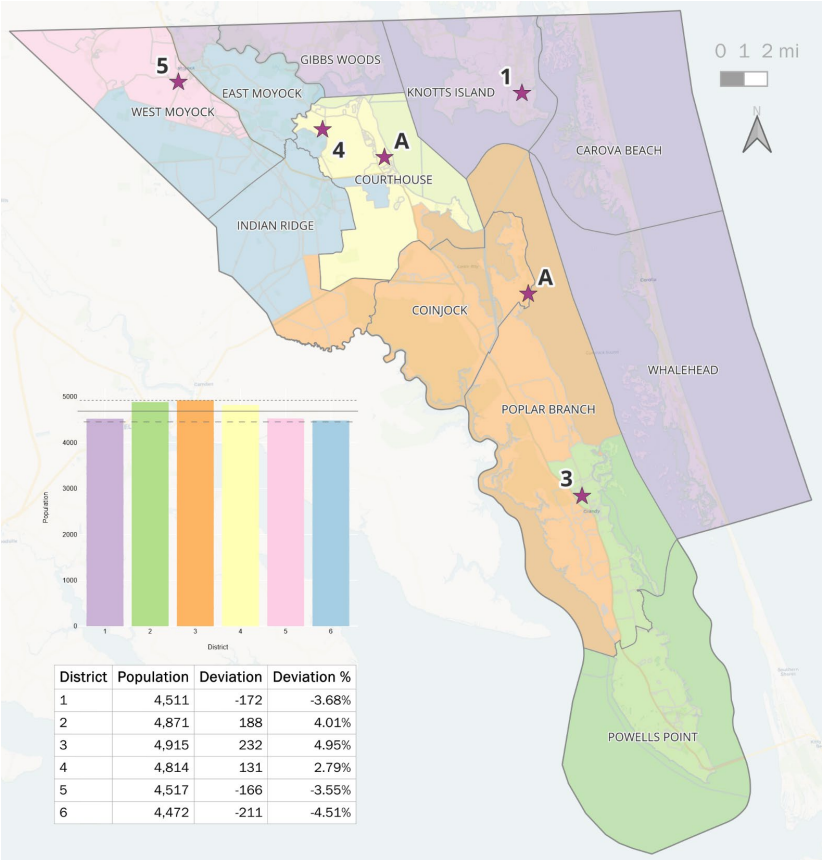

- Solid background colors represent the proposed district
- Dots represent the existing district
- If no dots are visible, no changes are proposed

Option D-1

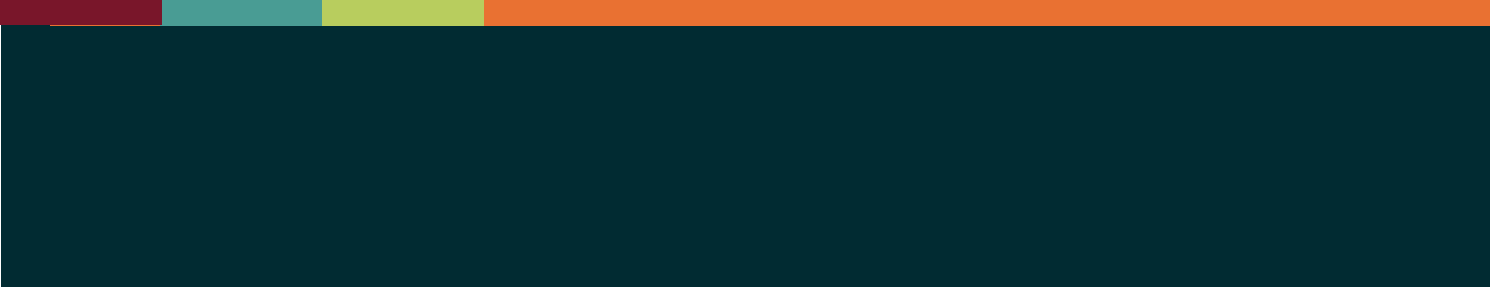

Option D-2

Option D-3
